"In my opinion, the Apprehender™ is a good specialized restraint tool that has tremendous leverage. The cuff at the end of the fork works smoothly and snaps on to a wrist almost flawless. The cuff does not clamp too tightly on a wrist to prevent injury. The shaft provides leverage to utilize the prying movement to make it excellent for take down maneuvers." Larry Smith, a 34-year veteran lieutenant (retired) from the San Diego (CA) Police Department.

"The Apprehender Cuffing Apprehension Control Device offers a high degree of leverage control and wide range of tactical options - all designed for officer, offender, and community safety." Robert Hood, retiring from the United States Department of Justice, Federal Bureau of Prisons For 33 years Warden Hood dealt with the most difficult offenders.

"My expectations for the Apprehender were high and I was not disappointed. I have tested the Apprehender on retired officers, current officers and students. The reaction is almost always the same – one of surprise in regard to the effectiveness of the control that is provided by a simple twist and applying leverage ... I cannot wait to share my excitement with the (security) community on this great product" - Mr. Michael Ganger, Chair of the ITT Technical Institute School of Criminal Justice

"I just reached in with the Apprehender and was able to gain control – simply and easily. What else can I say ... it just works." - Police Sergeant, Ripon Police Department, No. California - agency carries the Apprehender department-wide

"The Apprehender ends the confrontation, thus reducing the possibility of injuries to the subject and the Officers involved and thereby, reducing the chances of any potential liability to the Agency. This device would be perfectly suited to all of CBP's working environments (Land, Air, Sea)" - Sean E. Noonan US Customs and Border Protection Office of Training and Development
